

K-12 Educational Interpreter Internship
Missouri History Museum,
St. Louis, MO

The Missouri History Museum is accepting applications for a non-paid internship in our Community Education and Events department. This internship will be responsible for working with K-12 school groups who visit the museum, including presenting educational tours of the gallery and leading activities for students. This position will also be responsible for maintaining up-to-date knowledge of the Museum's exhibitions, preparing activity materials and classroom for activities, both before and after the schools visit.

The internship period is from January 1, 2009 – June 1, 2009. The schedule will be flexible and determined every two weeks, with most duties required during the school day. This schedule will be highly variable depending on demand from schools and the needs of the Education Coordinator, ranging from 0-20 hours/3 days per week. Professional activities will take place principally at the History Museum, but other locations (such as the Library Research Center, or schools in the Saint Louis region) may be possible as well. Option for credit is available with a minimum completion of 150 hours.

The preferred candidate will have experience working with students in the K-12 age range, especially from a wide variety of backgrounds and ability levels engaging presence and excellent communication skills with the ability to modify messages for different ages and demonstrated ability to work as part of a team.

The candidate should be an undergraduate or graduate student with a GPA of 3.0 or higher majoring in History, English, Education, Anthropology, Sociology, Religion, Philosophy, Foreign Languages, Art, Dance, Theatre or other related field.

To apply, applicants should send a résumé and cover letter detailing educational background, experience with children and career goals. Applicants should include at two letters of recommendation. Completed applications should be sent by regular mail or email by to:
